

ILLUSTRATED

Evening Ledger

WEDNESDAY

May 31, 1916

GRAPHIC NOTES AND COMMENT ON THE VARIED NEWS OF THE DAY AS RECORDED BY THE CAMERA

LOOKING ON AT THE DEVON HORSE SHOW

A glimpse of the oval from the spectators' seats while the jumpers are performing.

POISED OVER THE CENTRE OF THE BARS

An unusually fine photograph from the Devon Horse Show, showing a jumper at the instant before he descends to earth.

ILLUSTRATING THE TROUBLES OF A MOVIE PHOTOGRAPHER

The camera grinder had played himself in expectation of catching Generals Funston (on left) and Scott together at the Mexican border, but they were mean enough to separate and walk around him.

MISS COLUMBIA, 3 YEARS OLD

Rosa Lee Schwartz, of 534 South 4th street, held her own Memorial Day exercises yesterday by attiring herself in the Stars and Stripes.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood

THEY MARCHED RIGHT IN AND TURNED AROUND AND MARCHED RIGHT OUT AGAIN
American troops breaking camp at their San Antonio, Mex., base. The picture reveals how the Americans adapted themselves to Mexican conditions by building little adobe walls, on top of which they fixed their tents.

FUTURE CITIZENS, HAVING NO PROPER PLAYGROUND AT THEIR SCHOOL, ARE FORCED INTO STREET AND ALLEY, IF THEY WOULD PLAY THE GAMES BELOVED OF CHILDHOOD

The youngsters of the George Washington School, 5th street, below Washington avenue, like plenty of leg and elbow space just as much as others of their age, but a paternal city has somehow overlooked them. These two pictures expose the cramped quarters into which they are crowded during free hours.

